RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 28 pages. LC Number: KF26 . L27 2005q OCLC Number: (OCoLC)64563675 Subject: Hurricane Katrina, 2005. Excerpt: . . . t is how to care for a million people who have been displaced throughout the country. Much of what lies before us is common sense. Get rid of the water. Remove the debris. Restore the power. Those tasks will be challenging enough. Yet beyond the obvious needs are even more challenging needs that must be met. The children need to go to school. Families need reliable access to health care. Moms and dads need training to help them find jobs to support their families. The whole process is a challenge. It is a challenge we will have to answer without any of the traditional means of support or infrastructure for these programs. Remember, much of the area has been devastated. It is not collecting a penny of tax revenue. Stores are closed, so businesses arent collecting sales taxes, and workers are without jobs, so they arent receiving paychecks that would normally help pay for the services that have to be provided. As a former mayor, I watched the devastation caused by severe weather, and I mentioned Wright, WY, that was hit by the tornado. Plans to rebuild Wright are, of necessity, going to have to include the support and cooperation of the local, State, and Federal level, much the same as this tragedy will, and I have gotten to watch that as kind of a mini-lab on what sorts of things are available, what the restrictions are, and how people can get help. It will also call on us to develop innovative and creative strategies that will cut through the red tape for this kind of a huge disaster...
