Not illustrated. 1914 Excerpt: .for anything except getting names on the census lists, and naturally only the cities had energy and money enough to provide the extra educational advantages now made possible for all. 1 The purpose here, as well as in 2 and 3 which follow, is to stimulate counties and districts to pay good salaries, and thus to attract the best men and women to their service. With a state apportionment of one-third, and a county apportionment of equal amount, the tendency will be to materially increase salaries over those now paid, which are far too low to attract men or women possessed of real leadership. For the work outlined under the county-unit system, superintendents of ability will be called for. The increased cost will be more than compensated for by the saving in money resulting from the abolition of the district system and the fees formerly paid district clerks and treasurers. (1) For each county or city superintendent of education employed within the county, one-third of the salary paid such, up to a maximum state grant of. $1200. (2) For each county or city school-health-officer, devoting full time to the work of health supervision in the schools, and each full-time county or city attendance-officer, one-third of the salary paid, up to a maximum state grant of. $1200. (3) For each assistant-superintendent in either city or county, and each supervising-principal who has his full time free for the supervision of instruction, one-third of the salary paid such up...
